COURT WILL TELL PEACE PACT TERMS

Ruling Will Prevent Case
Ever Being Reopened,
Judge Declares

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 13.—(UP)—After an hour's heated conference with both parents and their attorneys, Judge Goodwin Knight announced at noon today the final peace pact in the sensational Mary Astor-Dr. Franklin Thorpe child custody battle will be announced from the bench at 3 p.m.

Judge Knight called the film actress and her divorced husband and their lawyers into his private chambers at 10:30 a.m. and for more than an hour loud voices could be heard through the door panels, indicating an angry session.

Then the judge walked from the conference, stepped onto the bench and announced that "final judgment" would be given this afternoon.

He ordered lawyers to be in court 15 minutes early for one final conference before the settlement is made law.

Decision Secret

"Even the lawyers don't know what my decision is going to be," he told newsmen. "I've got a lot of people to satisfy, including myself. I must be satisfied that the future welfare of the child be taken care of."

"In disposing of this child custody lawsuit, we will dismiss the associated annulment, guardianship, property settlement and trust fund actions," Dr. Thorpe said emphatically.

The direct statement confirmed previous declarations that the entire Astor-Thorpe litigation would be disposed of in the present peace pact.

Obviously relieved by the approaching settlement, Miss Astor left court flanked by her attorneys, newspapermen and spectators.

Asked what the announcement meant to her, she turned to her attorneys, and then said:

"I can't say."

HOOVER TO SPEAK AT LANDON MEET

PALO ALTO, Calif., Aug. 13.—(UP)—Former President Herbert Hoover will make his first public appearance in California since the Republican national convention in Cleveland when he introduces John D. M. Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee, who speaks in San Francisco today.

The broad scope of the institute will be clarification of the complexities developing in the northern Pacific area since Japan's first invasion of Manchuria in 1931.

Considerable importance has been attached by observers to attendance of the Soviet representatives.

First Soviet Participation

Although Russia many times in the past has worked directly with European nations on problems of international character, this will be the first time it has participated in an exclusive meeting of the Pacific nations themselves.

At the institute the Soviet delegation will confer on mutual problems side by side with delegates from Japan and China, nations whose interests are rapidly becoming paralleled by those of Russia.

Borah and Ross Win Nominations

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 13.—(UP)—Almost complete returns from Idaho's primary today pitted Republican William E. Borah against Democratic C. Ben Ross. Idaho's only three-time governor, in the November election for the senate seat which Borah has held for five consecutive terms, Borah, who crushed a highly-touted Townsend opponent in what he termed the "battle of a life time," polled a larger total of votes than Ross. With only scattered precincts remaining to be tabulated, the famed orator had 30,571 votes compared to Ross' 26,007.

Stormy Session Marks End Of Legion Parley

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 13.—(UP)—Delegates returned to their homes today from the state American Legion convention following a stormy concluding session unparalleled in Legion history.

Use Turkeys To Battle Cricket Plague

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 13.—(UP)—In the early days of Utah history, sea-gulls saved pioneers from a cricket invasion. Today 4000 turkeys were at work on a new cricket invasion in Tooele county. They are eating a ton of the insects daily, it was said.

Flying fists, angry discussion and the resignation of State Adjutant James K. Fisk marked the end of the convention late yesterday. Former National Commander Frank Belgrano finally took charge of the meeting and installed department Commander Thomas J. Riordan of San Francisco and his aides.

Fisk Resigns

Fisk, adjutant for the past 14 years, resigned when the convention voted to discharge three veteran women employees in his office because they did not have war time connections. During the uproar and calls for a reconsideration of the motion, Department Commander Dan W. Emmett of Santa Paula adjourned the convention and left.

GOVERNMENT FORCES IN NEW DRIVE

Loyalist Troops Attacking
Oviedo in Hopes of Ending Long Siege

GIBRALTAR, Aug. 13.—(UP)—The loyalist warship Jaime Primero, Spain's first line battleship, has been sunk in Malaga harbor by bombing operations by a fleet of rebel airplanes, the insurgent radio station at Seville announced today.

Flock thought they knew the answer. If they prove to be right, they probably will recommend application of a hair brush or house slipper to their young prisoner.

President Roosevelt never got the letter, although it was addressed to "President Roosevelt, White House, Washington, D. C., COD."

It was the "COD" that kept him from receiving it, for the writer put no stamp on the envelope.

The person who did get it was Betty Lightfoot, Negro, who lives near the girl who wrote it. The letter bore Miss Lightfoot's return address, with the added inscription: "You G. D. fool." The post office returned it to her for postage.

When she opened the letter she read:

"Dear Mr. Roosevelt:

"This is to notify you that you must leave $100 in cash in my back yard, at No. 196 South Sixth street, Newark, by tomorrow night. Otherwise you shall be killed."

The address was the Lightfoot's. She called police.

In seeking someone who might have wished to embarrass Miss Lightfoot, she recalled having had words with a neighbor about child trespassing on her yard. A detective went to the child's home.

More than 1000 troops from the Gibraltar region moved against Malaga, while two columns from Seville proceeded respectively to Antequera and Ronda for a concentration on Malaga.

Severe fighting was expected.

Stockton Selected

Stockton was awarded the 1937 convention over Sacramento, unless Los Angeles is selected for the national convention next year. In that case, both state and national meetings will be held in Los Angeles, and Stockton will be favored in 1938.

Irvine, Monterey, area 2; Bill Austin, Riverside, area 3; Paul Ballinger, Walnut, area 4; Ben L. Liebermann, Santa Ana, area 5.

New heads of the women's auxiliary installed were Mrs. Ruth Mabiebat of Alameda, department president, Mrs. Florence Chess of San Mateo, vice department president; Mrs. Ethel R. Flynn of Oakland, reelected secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Margaret Carlisle of Bakersfield, member of the finance board.

Roy S. Stockton, chairman of the finance committee, reported that the budget was balanced at $56,385.

COOK ADMITS
SLAYING GIRL

OS ANGELES, Aug. 13.—(UP)—Raymond E. Johnson surrendered early today, police announced, and made a full confession to slaying his former Japanese sweetheart, Miki Takaoka, actress, to death with a butcher knife.

The 37-year-old lumber camp cook walked into the police station in the nearby small town of Corona and announced:

"I'm Ray Johnson and I want to be excused for the murder of Miki Takaoka. I saw pictures of myself and Miki in the newspapers today and my conscience hurts me, so I thought I'd better give myself up."

Policeman J. H. Davis and Eule Ward said he signed a complete confession that he slashed the pretty Oriental girl's throat with a 12-inch butcher knife in a jealous rage when he found her with another white sweetheart. He said he had been in Corona since the slaying here Tuesday, while the search for him extended into Washington and Nevada.

Johnson was locked in the Riverside jail awaiting arrival of Los Angeles detectives.

SANTA ANA MAN SHOT IN LEG ACCIDENTALLY

Accidentally shot through the left leg as he rode his motorcycle over a bump in the Palisades road, near the Gun club yesterday, while holding a pistol between his knees, Lyle Spencer, 21, of 1462 Cypress street, Santa Ana, today was confined at St. Joseph hospital. Although he suffered fracture of the leg as the bullet entered the inside of his left leg six inches above the knee, and great loss of blood, Spencer's condition was reported as "favorable."

According to investigation of Deputy Sheriffs Steve Duhart and Harvey Gulick, Spencer said he was out hunting owls with his friend, LeRoy Caree, 1124 West Seventeenth street, Santa Ana, who also was riding a motorcycle when the accident occurred. Investigation shows Spencer has a permit to carry the weapon, a 32-20 one-shot pistol.

Doctors reported the wound not serious but severely painful.

SOVIET WILL SEND AGENTS

The league of nations will maintain an official observer throughout the sessions of the institute. Arthur Sweetser, American member of the league secretariat since its organization, has been designated for the purpose. The international labor bureau, which functions at Geneva in connection with the league, also will have an observer present.

Major changes in the Pacific area international set-up with particular reference to Japan will be in first order on the agenda of business.

Topics Listed

Topics scheduled for early consideration are:

1. The extent of Japanese expansion and the international status of Manchukuo.

2. The independence of the Philippines.

3. Naval disarmament in the Pacific.

Delegation spokesmen here have indicated that each nation participating in the conclave will be "put on the grill" by the others. Institute officials hope to learn the intentions, major national policies and activities of each government represented.

Specific issues to be attacked include the Soviet "nationally policy," United States' exclusion of Oriental immigrants; the changing balance of power in the Pacific; shifting boundaries, and possibilities of peaceful settlement of existing differences, with establishment of peace machinery.

"The American standard of living," as a term, as a yardstick and as something to impose on other nations, came for a severe condemnation at the hands of the research committee of the institute of pacific relations here today.

Delegates admitted it would probably come in for even harder handling when the subject comes before the round table sessions of the sixth biennial session of the institute which starts Monday and which will immediately take up the national policy of the United States as regards the Pacific area.

"The question of living standards," declared Carl L. Alberg, director of the food research institute of Stanford university, "is perhaps more important in the United States than in some other countries, because in our congress the most potent argument for high tariffs is the 'American standard of living'."

Alberg declared that as a matter of fact there "ain't no such animal."

"The standard of living of the Negro tenant share-cropper in North Carolina," Alberg insisted before the committee, "is different from that of the owner farmer who possesses 250 acres of the best farm land in Iowa."

Standard Vary

"The standard of living is different everywhere, even in the United States, and yet there has been the most reckless use of the term in political agitation for tariffs and other measures that affect immensely the lives of other peoples in other countries, to say nothing of our own."

Alberg declared in order to protect the "American standard of living," American business, industry and agriculture seeks to equalize the cost of production in the United States and in the countries from which the exports would come. He insisted when costs of production are equal in different countries, trade cannot exist for the simple reason that there is no need for it.

"We have had the faintest kind of thinking and very pernicious writing and talking based on this question of the 'American Standard of living,'" Alberg continued. "I do not think in the course of a few years the argument for protecting the American standard of living will capture the public imagination as much as it has in the past, and I expect the institute will have made some very important contribution to that point of view."

DEMURRER IN BOOTH & CO. CASE IS HEARD

After examining legal decisions and authorities submitted last Friday, Superior Judge James L. Allen today resumed hearing of a defense demurrer in the damage suit of Booth and Company against Murata.

In this case the plaintiff asked damages for alleged breach of contract for delivery of chili peppers produced by the defendant at Garden Grove. It was charged that only a portion of the agreed volume was delivered, and that such portion was not free of arsenic within the tolerance allowed by federal regulation, so that chili powder manufactured from the product was confiscated by the authorities. Damages was asked for the portion not delivered, for recovery of money paid for the portion delivered, and for loss of anticipated profits on the chili powder that was seized.

A demurrer filed by Attorneys S. B. Kauffman and Miss Robbie Anderson, attorneys for Murata, set up several contentions against the complaint. One was that the contract clause providing the buyer with right to inspect the chili peppers at the time of delivery constituted an implied warranty, which was the only warranty contained in the contract; and that no express warranty could be brought in afterward, as claimed by the plaintiff, when sending notice to Murata to rewash the peppers sold. The defense in that connection pointed out that the plaintiff does not charge breach of implied warranty but of express warranty only.

The defense also raised the point that if there is any regulation by a board or commission that only so much arsenic will be permitted on peppers, such regulation would be unconstitutional because it would be unlawful delegation of legislative authority.

The same attorneys raised the same constitutional issue successfully against the California AAA in the Withers case.

L. A. AUTHORITIES END INVESTIGATION

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 13.—(UPI)—Sheriff's Inspector Norris G. Stensland announced today he is dropping investigation of the weird story of Leo Habig, 48, World war veteran, of being held prisoner in a coal cellar two months by kidnapers seeking his $800 bonus.

Stensland questioned Habig two hours and released him. Stensland said he pointed out to Habig that his trousers, which Habig said he had worn two months, showed no sign of coal dust, and that his face and shoulders were tanned as though he had been working in the open.

BAR TOWNSEND AT CONVENTION

tional Union if its convention, which will begin tomorrow, permits the organization to lose its identity.

Denies Coalition

He denied there was any formal coalition between the National Union and the Townsend clubs or share-our-wealth, the latter more or less presented on the platform now by the Rev. Smith.

Both Townsend and Smith probably will speak to the Coughlin delegates after the convention opens Saturday, the priest said.

Both were invited as speakers some time ago but the propriety of permitting them to appear was challenged yesterday by Walter D. Davis, of Cleveland, grand marshal of the Coughlin meeting.

"This is a convention," Coughlin said today in a press conference, "not an oratorical contest. We are here to organize and conduct business."

After the business is over Saturday, Dr. Townsend and the Rev. Smith will speak if there is time. It is just an exchange of courtesies, we are not wedded to Dr. Townsend and he is not wedded to us."

Addressed Townsends

Last month the priest at the Townsend convention in Public Hall here delivered a sensational address in which he called President Roosevelt "lar."

Today he announced he would not require his National Union for Social Justice congressional candidates to repudiate the Roosevelt-Garner ticket.

He said 152 members of congress were classed as supporters of NUSJ "on their record" and that by mid-September the list of candidates supported by Coughlin would number between 285 and 300.

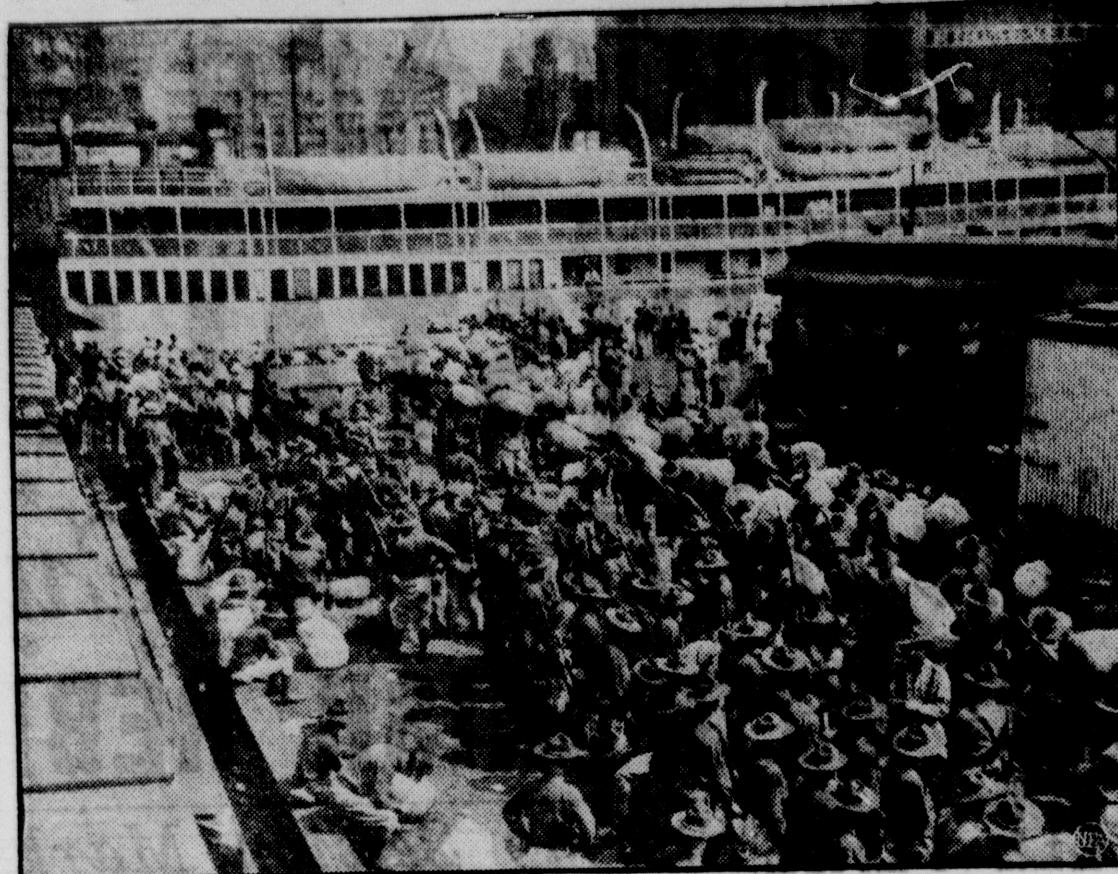

About 70 percent of his congressional support, he said, came from Democrats. He expects 185 of the NUSJ candidates to be elected.

"There is absolutely no chance of formal coalition with Dr. Townsend. The four groups—Townsend, Smith, Lemke's Union party and the NUSJ—are together negatively rather than positively."

"If this convention does not succeed in retaining its identity, I will step out. I will not remain if it fails to endorse my 16 principles, if it endorses any political party or if it amalgamates with any other group."

Off to Rehearse War Defense of Chicago

These Illinois national guardsmen were on their way "over, over there" from Chicago to South Haven, Mich.—but no real fighting was in prospect. The men who embarked for the trip were the 9000 soldiers of the 33d division assigned parts in the war games for the defense of Chicago, with scene of operations in the vicinity of Camp Custer, across Lake Michigan. High army officers attended to watch the largest concentration of troops in the midwest since the World War.

NEW HIGHWAY PATROL OFFICE NOW ASSURED

Orange county today was definitely assured by Assemblyman James B. Utt following a conversation he had with Ray Ingalls, chief of the state motor vehicle department, who is scheduled to pay a visit to Santa Ana tomorrow.

Assemblyman Utt also announced today that Orange county will have two more highway patrol officers in the near future to add to the staff of 20 now stationed here.

Chief Raymond Cato of the Highway Patrol was in Orange county yesterday, but did not come to Santa Ana. He attended a barbecue in Brea, and Utt saw him in Fullerton. It was from Cato that Utt learned that two more highway patrolmen are to be added to the Orange county contingent.

Orange county's new motor vehicle branch office probably will be located on North Main street, Utt said today, and the highway patrol expects to be moved from the courthouse basement to the new quarters within the next 60 days.

When the new branch office is established here Orange county citizens will have a greatly improved service in securing licenses for automobiles, Utt said. Three or four license clerks will be employed in the new office, now certain to be established here.

Some time ago the chamber of commerce started a movement to secure better service for Orange county motorists by having a branch office of the motor vehicle department established here.

GOV. MERRIAM DENIES REPORT OF ACCIDENT

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 13.—(UPI)—Gov. Frank F. Merriam today denied charges of two automobile accident victims that he had failed to offer them adequate emergency aid on the Downieville highway Saturday night.

James Fisher and Axel Hansen, whose automobiles overturned on the highway shortly before the governor and his escort of two highway patrolmen reached the scene, asserted the executive had failed to take them to a hospital in his car although he stopped at the scene of the wreck.

The governor said that although there were many cars on the highway his was the only one which stopped to offer aid and that while he was there, the driver of an U. S. service truck volunteered to look after the injured men.

"It was our understanding," said the governor, "that neither was seriously hurt and they would be taken in by the forestry men, so we drove on." He added Hansen's accusation that he drove on without ascertaining how badly Hansen was injured.

Two physicians are charged with conspiracy to commit mayhem and deprive the 21-year-old heirless of the possibility of motherhood, and resolutely from her share of her inventor father's fortune.

At noon recess a tentative jury of three women and nine men had been selected. The defense indicated it would attempt to obtain an all-male jury and would challenge the prospective women jurors in the afternoon session.

Ann, the fragile "love child" of the famous inventor and the much-married Myron Andrews Brusie re Denning Hewitt D'Erlanger Carter, did not appear in the courtroom today. She is expected to be the state's first witness, possibly tomorrow, when she will tell her mother, greedy for the whole trust fund income left by Hewitt, had her daughter sterilized shortly before she reached 21.

Under the terms of Peter Cooper Hewitt's will, his widow is to receive one-third of the income from a trust fund, and Ann two-thirds. However, the daughter's share is to pass to her children, if any, or to revert to Mrs. Hewitt if she reaches 21.

Judge Knight said he would impose severe conditions upon Mary Astor and Dr. Franklyn Thorpe in settling joint control of the 4-year-old daughter.

His intent, he said, was to "saw up" the litigation between the film star and her former husband so that it can never be reopened.

Judge Knight stated his plans in revealing that he would take charge of Miss Astor's rhapsodic diary in which she confessed an extra-marital love for George S. Kaufman, famous playwright.

The disposition of the diary will be known only to Dr. Thorpe, Miss Astor and the court. It was understood, however, that Judge Knight would impound it in such a way that it can do no further damage to Miss Astor and be of no further assistance to her former husband.

Judge Knight said that when court convenes at 10 a. m. (PST) he will instruct John Anderson, Dr. Thorpe's attorney, to hand him the diary. He said he then would release court until 2 p. m., using the four hours to read "every word in the diary."

At 2 p. m. he will reconvene court, he said, and summon Miss Astor, Dr. Thorpe, and their attorneys before him to hear a reading of a written memorandum governing the custody of Marylyn Thorpe.

"My primary interest is for the child," he said. "When the agreement drawn up between the lawyers is accepted, I expect it will set up the Astor-Thorpe case so it will never be reopened."

"Contrary to rumors, there has been no pressure exerted upon me by motion picture interests to end the case," Judge Knight said. "Any 'high pressure' was placed upon the principals involved, not the court."

The only hint the jurist would give as to his decision was that he thought any plan where one or the other parent got the child over weekends was unsound.

"Best assured that I will not 'rubber stamp' any agreement made by the attorneys," he said.

Police News

Sheriff's officers today were seeking a red and white Elgin bicycle, No. M-16669, reported stolen from nearby the Buena Park theater last night. The bicycle belongs to Robert Rodebaugh, 207 Court street, Buena Park, officers were told.

Apprehended by Deputy Sheriffs Steve Duhart, Harvey Gulick and Ives Brown last night on Mitchell street, between Red Hill and Browning streets, Tustin, Frank Keenan, 31, truck driver of 2650 Evergreen street, Santa Ana, was booked at county jail on a charge of drunk driving.

Owens' Big Moment—A Three-Time Thrill

"Proudest moments" were a three-time experience for Jesse Owens, dusky Ohio State star, at the Olympic Games in Berlin where thrice he mounted the dais before more than 100,000 cheering spectators to receive highest individual honors. Here, crowned with the laurels of victory and holding the victor's oak tree, he is pictured saluting in American fashion after winning the running broad jump with a leap of 26 feet 5 1/2 inches. In front of the wonder athlete is Naoto Tajima of Japan, who jumped second best. Owens was the center of similar ceremonies after winning the 100-meter and 200-meter events.

JIMMY FIDLER — in — HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 13.—Settin' Around (Columbia). This studio recently installed time clocks on every stage, under each clock this sign: OFFICIAL TIME FOR THIS SET. It is another efficiency-man idea. Watches worn by working crews and casts always differ, so nobody on sets was ever sure when to start and stop work. The new clocks checked thrice daily by telegraph settle the problem.

Dorothy Arzner, only woman director, was guiding Rosalind Russell and John Boles through their scenes for "Craig's Wife," a picture of George Kelly's Pulitzer prize play. Miss Russell is letting her hair grow long. She tells me Virginia Bruce is doing the same and Jean Harlow contemplates following suit. Is long hair returning? Rosalind enacts a heavy role in the picture. Because of the despicability of the woman she portrays, she first turned the part down, but on advice of Myrna Loy, who won early spurs in such characterizations, she changed her mind. Miss Russell once had been accused of copying Miss Loy on the screen. Maybe yes, maybe no; if she, she could hardly have chosen a better model.

Boles paused between scenes to tell the story of his first stage experience. During the war he was a spy, and was caught back of the German lines, in Bremerhaven. It looked like curtains, but Boles, speaking in German, explained he was an actor who because of pacifistic leanings had refused to fight.

The German military police answered, "Actor? You will prove it tonight; we are putting on a show for the soldiers." That night, with a firing squad waiting, Boles made his debut as an actor, and got away with it. He was released and later worked his way back to the allied lines.

Director Dorothy Arzner's chair bears the autographs of every member of the cast. She purchases a new chair each new picture she directs and her casts add their autographs.

On the "Adventures in Manhattan" set, the scene was a newspaper office. About twenty reporters were engaged in the scene, and they looked so authentic I made inquiry. I learned they were not extras, but veteran newspaper men out of work. Most of them were typewriting (hunt-and-peck system), and after the cameras stopped grinding I wandered along to see what they had written. Eighteen of the twenty had typed over and over again.

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party." A line they could write at top speed. Hundreds of letters lying around on desks attracted my eye. They were fan letters addressed to Columbia stars. Perhaps among them, one you may have written.

Jean Arthur and Joel McCrea share honors in "Adventures in Manhattan," and this is the kind of girl Jean is: She spent every minute between scenes looking through those fan letters. All she found addressed to herself, she turned over to her secretary to be answered. Later, she informed me, she intended to go to the front office and raise a little fuss over such use of her fan letters.

TWO CRUISERS ASSIGNED TO LIGHT TOURNEY

With two great naval cruisers, the U. S. S. Trenton and the U. S. S. Marchioness, assigned to the affair by Commander-in-Chief of the United States Fleet, Arthur J. Hepburn, the Annual Tournament of Lights with its thoroughly new and "Corinthian" atmosphere will start promptly at 7:30 on Saturday evening next, August 18th. J. A. Beek, director of the affair, has announced the starting time at 7:30 and will permit no delays.

Beginning at the Balboa pavilion, the route of the tournament will be along the East Bay Front to the harbor entrance, thence to the foot of Corona Del Mar and across to the east end of Balboa Island. Along the south side of Balboa Island to Lido Isle following the south side of Lido to opposite Fifteenth street, Newport Beach. Then along El Mayo east to the Newport Harbor Yacht club, around Bay Island, south to the Bay Front at Alvarado, then east to the pavilion where the parade will disband.

All entries will be "Corinthian" which in United States means amateur and applied particularly to yachting. Boats instead of floats will be used for display with a few exceptions for city entries. Already Pasadena, Long Beach, Santa Ana, Huntington Beach, Anaheim, and Laguna Beach have listed their entries. Others are applying rapidly. It is expected that there will be over 200 entries for the 80 or more trophies which are being offered.

Frank C. Cuprien, dean of artists at Laguna Beach, will head the judges and will be aided by Claude G. Putnam, Los Angeles, Harry H. Williamson, Mayor of Newport Beach, Donald Beach Kirby and Shelby Coon of Balboa Island, and Sidney H. Davidson, principal of the Newport Harbor Union High school.

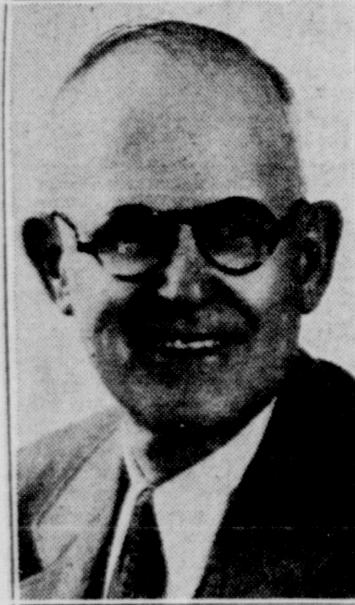

Searchlight illumination by the two navy cruisers will add to the affair and a great display of fireworks will follow the finish of the parade about 9:30.

County Water District Interested In Joining MWD

WANT WATER TO PUT IN COUNTY
STORAGE BASIN

Indicating a deep interest in having the irrigated lands of Orange county join the Metropolitan Water District, directors of the Orange County Water District met yesterday afternoon and discussed various angles on how the county should go about joining the MWD.

Director William Wallop declared that the whole Orange County Water District should join the MWD, expressing the opinion that if the MWD could furnish agricultural water for $18 an acre foot, this would be a reasonable price. He said it is important to get this water to use in building up reserves in the underground basin. Orange county should join the district before it is too late, he said.

General costs of water companies in delivering water here range from $10 to $12 an acre foot now, Wallop said. Director Roy Browning was cautious, asking that it be definitely determined just what the costs of the water will be and what the bond obligations will be before action is taken. He said he has a report saying that MWD water costs delivered here figures around $35 an acre foot.

Attorney A. W. Rutan said the amount of water the district could get would be based on assessed valuations in the district. The local water district valuation was set this year at $89,472,635 as compared with $89,990,865 in 1935 and $88,258,475 in 1934.

The directors expressed intention of attending the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce and Orange County Coast association at Laguna Beach August 18, when MWD officials will answer questions regarding Orange county's joining the water district.

Director William Maureran reported on work being done in the Santa Ana river preparatory to dredging operations this winter.

A VACANT STORE IS LIKE A VACANT MIND

Fill a vacant store room with shelves of gold, diamond-studded counters and carpets of silk on the floor, it will bring the curious but not the customers. Fill those shelves with gins-cracks or shoddy merchandise and that store will be bankrupt.

A man's mind is a store room, each day we fill our shelves with knowledge. This store room, called a brain, retains thoughts which in the parts of trade are saleable or just shoddy. It depends entirely upon the thoughts which we gather; the books we read, the kind of men with whom we associate, the thoughts behind the speech to which we listened, whether we harbor kind thoughts or destructive ones, whether we spend our time in the interests of the church or the halls of iniquity, as to the outcome of our business enterprise.

All store rooms have four walls, it is the merchandise offered for sale within these walls that makes the difference between success and failure. And so it is with the human brain, fill it with knowledge which has a market value, knowledge for which your contemporaries are willing to pay a price, and you will be a success. Fill it with shoddy and bankruptcy follows.

KIDS HAVE RIOT OF FUN AT
PET SHOW; PRIZES AWARDED

By KENNETH ADAMS

Several hundred kids who have enjoyed facilities of playgrounds in Santa Ana operated under WPA recreational projects, climaxed their summer of fun yesterday afternoon by staging a colorful, if riotous and noisy, Pet Show and entertainment program in the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl.

PACIFIC COAST
AIR MAIL SETS
NATION RECORD

Floyd Stewart, acting as master of ceremonies, at times had trouble making his voice heard above the cacophony, despite the aid of a powerful public address system. Circles of goats, monkeys, chickens, dogs, pigs, turkeys, ducks, geese and cats combined with the lusty shouts of the youngsters, made bedlam of the Bowl.

It was a lot of fun, though, not only for the children, but for the many grown-ups as well. The grown-ups, however, had their patience taxed to the limit by continuous searches for lost pet, searching frantically while tiny tots wept heart-broken tears. The lost was found in every case, however, and the big show ended with a wish on the part of the kids that the event be repeated.

Following the judging of the pets in various classes, the children gathered around the platform to hear orchestra numbers, black-faced comedians, competition among youthful harmonica players and other entertainment, including dancing.

Little Velma Stroud came to the party in a most novel fashion, seated in a small buggy pulled by her Shetland pony. She was attired in old-time dress, with artificial red hair, large freckles painted all over her face, and totting a rifle bigger than she was. One side of the horse was a sign, "Texas or Bust."

Has Blue Dog

Tiny Connie Jean Bennett looked a great deal like Little Miss Muffet. She was dressed in an airy blue frock, and originally enough, had her little poodle dog colored to match her dress. Consuela Barreto appeared on the scene with a most intelligent-looking goat. The pet goat wore gold-rim spectacles, and had a flourishing ribbon around its neck. Many other youngsters proudly displayed their pets, which included almost everything from mice to horses. One small lad carried with him a large turtle, its back painted in colorful hues.

This goat of Consuela's was the "natural" comedian at the party. Every time someone attempted to speak from the platform, a disconcerting "Na-a-a-a-a-a" proclaimed the goat's disgust with the whole proceedings. Later on, a diminutive pig made life miserable for the be-spectacled goat, squealing and rushing at the larger animal. Some fun!

After the confusion abated somewhat, the following prize awards were announced: best pen of chickens, Talmadge Cook; best rooster, Ruth Reid; best duck, Gene Ford; best dove, Amelia Rodriguez; best goose, Barnes Ramirez; best goat, Robert Castillo; best guinea pig; Joe Chavez; best cat, Edward Bonkelle; best turtle, Arthur Wilson; funniest dressed dog, Bert Flood; best hen, Hope Lujan; best dog, Donald Fipps; largest dog, Helen Hangan; dog with short tail, Margaret Sterns. Prizes also were awarded for winners in the harmonica contests.

Miss Hepburn wore 12 different gowns, each weighing 15 pounds and, unfortunately for her comfort, she wasn't working outdoors in Scotland, but indoors in Hollywood on a closed sound stage flooded with blazing are lamps. "Mary of Scotland" opens Saturday at the Fox Broadway theater.

MARY OF SCOTLAND'
HEPBURN CHALLENGE

Katharine Hepburn faces the severest test of her career and admits it in the title role of "Mary of Scotland."

As Mary Stuart, Miss Hepburn is called upon to portray a character whose life, linked with the history of three countries, was a contradiction of loveliness and faults. Neither side of the Scottish queen can be over-emphasized, according to John Ford, who directed for RKO Radio, and the middle path the screen star needed to walk made heavy demands upon acting ability.

In the course of filming the new picture, Miss Hepburn wore 12 different gowns, each weighing 15 pounds and, unfortunately for her comfort, she wasn't working outdoors in Scotland, but indoors in Hollywood on a closed sound stage flooded with blazing are lamps. "Mary of Scotland" opens Saturday at the Fox Broadway theater.

Members of the group responsible for sending the same bread formulas to Europe for athletes in Olympic events as were used in the United States in 1932, are shown below. Left to right are Paul H. OLYMPIANS GET LET CONTRACT
SAME BREAD AS ON AUDITORIUM
HERE IN 1932 AT PLACENTIA

A. D. Wilder, state director of the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works, today announced approval of award of contract for the construction of new auditorium building at the Bradford Avenue school site, for the Placentia Unified School District of Orange county.

The request received by Paul Helms of Helms Bakeries from Dr. Carl Diem, general secretary of the Berlin Games, stated the 1936 hosts are doing their utmost to satisfy their athletic guests, and asks the assistance of the local bakery organization in perfecting the bread making arrangements.

Following airmail dispatch of the bread recipe to Berlin with the approval of William May Garland, senior American member of the International Olympic committee, the Helms company has received an official acknowledgement from the European Olympic authorities, the North German Lloyd company, and an expression of appreciation and thanks from the German embassy at Washington.

While we feel a pardonable pride in such recognition, the real honor is due to members of the 1932 Olympic Games committee who set a mark of efficient hospitality never to be surpassed," stated Mr. Helms today. "With so many world champions entered for the United States in the Olympic events, we are glad to send along another Southern California world champion to help them win."

The entire project will cost approximately $162,656 toward which PWA is contributing $73,650 as a grant, while the district is appropriating some $90,016. Construction of the new auditorium will consume approximately four months.

Club No. 9 will meet Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Charles Holloway home, 2027 Cypress avenue. Important business will be transacted.

EXAMINATION OF TEACHERS FOR TUBERCULOSIS IS SOUGHT HERE

Although the Christmas Seals will not be mailed until Thanksgiving time, campaign plans were under way today following a meeting of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health Association, Ltd. Toastmaster groups are again volunteering their services for this educational program.

The local tuberculosis association, as a part of its educational campaign this year, is urging that school boards in Orange county adopt a ruling requiring that all school employees and all applicants for teaching positions, as well as those seeking renewal of their contracts, should be required to present a medical certificate from a reputable physician, including a chest x-ray report.

This recommendation is made because of the fact that the incidence of tuberculosis among teachers, as found in the survey of 8000 teachers in various parts of the United States, is in one case out of every 46 as compared with one out of every 2000 grammar school children and one out of every four hundred high school students.

"The problem is certainly one of major significance and one which demands appropriate action by our public health and school officials," the announcement said. Certainly the most direct means is through suitable legislation. In the absence of such legislation, the administrative responsibility for dealing with the problem of tuberculosis in teachers must rest entirely with the local school board.

The attorney general of several states have ruled upon the legalities of school boards requiring adequate tests for tuberculosis as a reasonable measure for the protection of the public health and safety."

Towel Shower
Is Compliment
To Miss Wells

Long years of friendship existing between the families of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Walker and Mr. and Mrs. George R. Wells occasioned a delightful affair yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Walker complimented Miss Pauline Wells, fiancee of Douglas Ferry of Los Angeles, at one of the many bridal parties planned in advance of the early autumn wedding date.

Intimacy was the keynote of this enjoyable afternoon in the Walker home, 511 West Third street, where close friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wells who have watched their daughter grow from childhood into a gracious young womanhood were happy to have the opportunity to express their interest in her romance.

Mrs. Walker had no formal color scheme for her decorations, for flowers were in every hue and form ranging from pompon zinnias in flaming orange and gold tones, to a graceful arrangement of white and violet asters, the gift of Mrs. Theo Winbiger.

Tally cards in white and silver bridal design, were distributed by Mrs. A. H. Allen, and contract bridge play was soon in progress. The hostess had chosen Yardley toiletries and a quaintly mirrored little powder-puff container for her gifts which were secured by Mrs. Robert U. Smith, with first and second high scores, and Mrs. Rolla Hays, scoring low.

But chief interest in gifts was reserved for the after-bride interval, for before Miss Wells was placed such an array of packages that it was most exciting as she opened and admired the collection of towels. These were in every variety and color, from exquisitely embroidered finger-tip and guest towels to fleecy big bath towels in sets.

An original plan was adopted by Mrs. Walker in serving refreshments. As bridge play progressed during the afternoon, guests were served a sparkling orangeade. Later as they took their farewells of the hostess and her honoree, Miss Wells, each received a ribbon-tied package of cake, both angel food and sunshine varieties. These delicious cakes, which formed the dessert course in many homes later in the evening dinner hour, had been baked by Mrs. Walker's mother, Mrs. F. J. McCoy.

Mrs. McCoy was present to add her gift and good wishes to those showered on the bride-elect. And at the other end of the genealogical line, was her great-granddaughter, tiny Sandra Walker, cunning French doll of a daughter of the Victor Walkers of this city and Balboa, accompanying her mother, Mrs. Victor Walker. Others on the guest list with Mrs. Wells and her daughter, the party honoree, were Mrs. Robert U. Smith (Irene Boyer) at whose wedding just a year ago, Miss Wells was maid of honor; Mesdames George S. Smith, Fred Crowell, Theo Winbiger, Rolla Hays, W. D. Ranney, E. T. Mateer, Fred Newcomb Jr., H. MacVicker Smith, A. H. Allen, Orlyn Robertson, Alvin Nowotny, Harry Westover, Paul Schwartz, A. N. Zerman, John Wehrly and Emmett Elliott.

Since their arrival for a vacation visit in Santa Ana, their former home city, Mrs. G. D. Wallace and daughter, Glennie Deane of Ione have been complimented at a number of affairs. One of the latest of these was a party in the home of Mrs. Wallace's mother and sister, Mrs. C. C. Irish and Mrs. A. B. Jesse, 2324 Bonnie Brae.

Dinner served in a pretty floral setting was followed by games of contract bridge. W. Ralph Barker won a prize for scoring high.

In the group were Mrs. Irish and Mrs. Jesse, the co-hostesses; Mrs. Wallace and Glennie Deane; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Grover of this city and their niece, Mrs. Carl Damast and daughter, Phyllis of Nebraska City, Neb., who are visiting here; Mr. and Mrs. W. Ralph Barker and daughter, Joan; and Miss Doris Lee Jesse, daughter of the home.

Mr. Wallace was unable to leave his duties as senior bookkeeper at Preston School of Industry in Ione long enough to make the Southland trip. He will be joined by his wife and daughter in a few days' time.

Miss Glennie Deane has been spending part of the vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Wallace, 823 East Fifth street. Also she has been a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis H. Vaughn, 1247 South Ross street.

The bridal party and guests enjoyed the attractive grounds of the chapel during the reception, admiring the new wishing well which is an interesting feature of the garden.

"Search the Scriptures" was the general study theme, and an interesting article on the subject was read by Mrs. Frieda Hasenauer. Mrs. Guy Koenig led the discussion which followed. Mrs. Bergsetter made a nomination committee to report at an early meeting. Members chosen were Mrs. Minnie Jones, Mrs. Hannah Faccou and Mrs. Etta Ericks.

After program and business features, women lingered for a social hour during which refreshments were served by Mrs. Minnie Jones and Mrs. D. Jones Jr.

Baby Son Welcomed

Mrs. Anthony Kneip and her baby son, Master Robert James Kneip, are both doing well at St. Joseph hospital, where the baby was born Sunday night, August 9, that it is believed that it will be only a few days until they join Mr. Kneip in their home, 420 Eastside avenue.

Mrs. Kneip was Miss Ruby Black, bookkeeper at a local drug store before her marriage over a year ago. Mr. Kneip is teller with the Bank of America. Their sturdy little eight-pound son was one of eight baby boys born at St. Joseph within a twelve-hour interval at the beginning of the week.

Varied Events Planned
For Entertainment
Of House-guests

Latest in the succession of interesting things which Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. McMahon of South Main street are planning for the entertainment of their house-guests Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gangmayer of Chicago, was a theater party which they gave last night at the Theater Mart, affording their guests opportunity to see the famous play, "The Drunkard."

With Mr. and Mrs. McMahon and Mr. and Mrs. Gangmayer were several Santa Ana friends, including Mr. and Mrs. Earl Waycott, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wilson and their guest, Miss Alita Severs of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Watkins of Balboa Island.

An unexpected feature of the dinner hour was the appearance of a birthday cake with the dessert course, complimenting Mrs. Wilson's anniversary. Additional observance came with the presentation to her of a gift of pottery to add to the set she is collecting.

Today Mrs. McMahon and her guests, who include also Mrs. Stewart O'Shea and Miss Patricia O'Shea of Milwaukee, motored to San Juan Capistrano that the easterners might go over the old Mission. Saturday the Gangmayers will go to Bakersfield to be over Sunday guests of friends there with whom they will visit Sequoia National park before their return to Santa Ana.

Brain Twizzlers

By Prof. J. D. Flint

Here is a story about a pitched battle between gangsters and police. In a huge warehouse a number of gangsters took refuge in a desperate attempt to avoid capture. The warehouse was full of very large crates, large enough to conceal a man, and the crates were arranged in lanes. The police forced a way into the warehouse and the squad sought protection in one section of the great room, each man behind a crate. The diagram shows a view of the situation as it probably looked from above. As you will notice, no two of the men were in direct line with one another. This was a precautionary measure to avoid setting up a direct line of fire. It was necessary for three of the men to move one crate away from their positions. Can you move three of them, each to an adjacent crate, so that still there are no two in direct line? Some of the crate tops are black, some white but that is simply to provide a clear diagram.

Answer to Yesterday's Twizzler
The mistake in reasoning in the Achilles vs. Mr. Turtle race lies in the fact that Achilles neither stops at the end of each interval nor does he shorten his pace to such small fractions as the problem suggests. ## MRS. HILL RETAINS MIZE RATED BETTER HER DIVING CROWN THAN JOE DIMAGGIO

Mrs. Hill's score by dives: 7.81, 8.26, 8.86, 8.40. Miss Dunn's score: 7.59, 7.92, 8.85, 9.24.

Dutch Girl Backstroke Queen

Dina Wilhelmina Senff of Holland won the backstroke event which Eleanor Holm Jarrett, disbarred American star who sat in the stands, took in 1932. Wilhelmina Mastenbroek of Holland, 100-meter free style champion, was second with Alice Bridges and Mrs. Edith Motridge Segal of the United States following in that order.

America's three stars — Adolf Kiefer, Al Van de Weghe and Taylor Drysdale—all moved into tomorrow's finals of the 100-meter backstroke along with three Japanese.

Kiefer, the 18-year-old Chicago flash, lowered the Olympic record to 1:06.8 as he beat out Van de Weghe in the first heat. Yesterday, Kiefer created an Olympic mark of 1:06.9.

Drysdale took the second heat, beating by more than a second, Masaji Kiyokawa of Japan, the defending champion.

All three of America's 1500-meter men survived the opening heats and moved into tomorrow's semi-finals along with three Japanese, Jack Medina of Seattle, 400-meter free style champion, and Noboru Terada of Japan, finished even in the second heat. Shumpel Uto of Japan beat out Ralph Flanagan in the third heat and James Christy of the United States third in 1932, won the fourth heat.

U. S. Mermen Qualify

America qualified three men for the semi-finals of the 200-meter breast stroke tomorrow but its chances of capturing that title appeared dismal when Tetsuo Hamuro was clocked in 2:44.5, bettering the Olympic record of 2:44.9 set by Reizo Koike of Japan in 1932.

Jack Kasley of the United States finished third in the second heat; Ray Kaye of Detroit was third in the opening heat and Johnny Higgins of Providence took the third heat.

Two Americans qualified for the semi-finals of the women's 400-meter free style tomorrow. Mrs. Lenore Kight Wingard of Homestead, Pa., finished second to Ragnhild Heger of Denmark who created an Olympic record of 5:28 in the first heat.

Mary Lou Petty of Seattle was third in the fourth heat in which there were only three competitors. The pace was slow because all three automatically qualified. Dorothy Dickinson of the U. S. scratched her entry in the second heat because of a sprained shoulder.

FOR PRESENTS TAX OUTLINE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. — (UP) —

President Roosevelt and his New Deal aids today presented the outline of a three-fold election year fiscal program embracing assurance of no new taxes, revision of present tax inequities and early balancing of the budget.

The program, as announced after a hastily summoned conference of administration tax experts at the White House:

1. Assurance that no request will be made to the next congress for the levying of additional taxes or increase of present tax rates.

2. Launching of an immediate study by treasury and congressional tax consultants of present revenue laws as a basis for recommendations to the next congress for elimination of inequitable taxes, especially those unfair "to consumers or to trade."

3. Treasury assurance that with continued recovery" the revenue yield is approaching the point where it will cover government costs and provide a surplus for reduction of the public debt.

The tax program was revealed at an early morning White House conference to which President Roosevelt had summoned Chairman Pat Harrison of the house ways and means committee and Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr.

The act was so contrary to the usual order of things at Huntington Beach that it attracted a lot of attention. Game in and game out the Oilers are the smartest publicists in the league.

Ben Steffler, erstwhile boxing matchmaker for Sam Sampson at the Orange County Athletic club, popped back into the news as boxing instructor on a program at Riverside recreation department. Steffler had a player to cross the balkline with his cue ball in every break between 180 and 200 points.

© 1936 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The Zero Hour

NEW YORK, Aug. 13. — (UP) —

Johnny Mize, sensational young first baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals, appeared today to be outdistancing Joe DiMaggio, pride of the New York Yankees, for the honor of being called "prize rookie of 1936."

While "DiMagg" and the Yankees are coasting toward an American league pennant in rather unexciting fashion, Mize is playing a major bat-balling role in the Cardinals' knock-down-drag-out fight for the National league flag.

Topping all national league batters with an average of .384, Johnny's long-range clouting has won up three of the five contests the Gas House gang won from the Chicago Cubs during the past ten days.

In the final skirmish yesterday, which saw the Cardinals beating the Cubs 5-3 to recapture first place by a game, it was Johnny's home run with two on in the sixth that routed Larry French and sewed up the decision. The clout was Mize's third in the two Cardinals series and his 16th of the year.

New York's Giants won a 12-inning verdict from the Brooklyn Dodgers to move within 2-1 of the second-place Cubs.

The Yankees, with Jake Powell as lead off man in a revised line-up, emerged from a brief batting slump to defeat Washington, 11-7, in the American league. The Detroit Tigers defeated Cleveland, 7-4, and the Indians fell 11-2 games behind New York.

CORN YIELDS OVER NATION SHOW INCREASE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. — (UP) —

Corn yields throughout the United States this year will be slightly higher than in the drought year of 1934, the agriculture department predicted today.

The prediction came in the face of the fact that in length and intensity the present searing heat exceeded that of two years ago.

Slashes of green in the east, Texas and on the Pacific slope are responsible for bringing up the average crop, although corn and wheat are virtually ruined in the central states.

The Works Progress administration emphasized the seriousness of the drought in some areas by announcing it was giving work to 56,832 farmers. All were certified as destitute.

In its study of crop conditions, the agriculture department found that the irregular distribution of rainfall caused a sharp regional difference in crop conditions.

"In general," the department said, "the loss of crops has been most severe this year in eastern Montana, the northwestern corner of Wyoming, the Dakotas, Nebraska, western and southern Iowa, most of Minnesota and Missouri and parts of Kansas and Oklahoma."

THE OLD COMBINATION

It's a bit hard, despite the optimism of the diplomats, to swallow the new Austro-German treaty negotiated by Chancellors Hitler and Schuschnigg, guaranteeing Austria's complete independence of Nazism.

For one thing, its three-year limit falls sadly short of the 25-year non-aggression pact Hitler has talked about. But more important is the fact that the treaty swings Europe back to the pre-war habit of alliances and combinations.

Already there is ample evidence that Hitler has effected a sort of triple alliance with Germany and Austria, even though he has not signed a formal pact. Witness, for example, the refusal of both Italy and Germany to take part in the new Locarno conference, seeking to rebuild the treaty which Der Fuehrer so boldly scrapped a few weeks back.

It appears that Europe again is headed toward the vicious doctrine of the "balance of powers." It's pretty difficult to look hopefully on that sort of development.

TAXING SERVICES

Legitimate cause for complaint in our present taxing laws is that services are seldom taxed and the higher the standard of living the larger fraction of a man's expenditures goes to service. Years ago, in America, this was not true. As a result of not taxing services, things that are consumed have to, of necessity, be taxed much higher than they should be; especially is this true, when a large fraction of our tax income comes from taxes on property. In addition to services not being taxed, a large amount of wealth is consumed under the property tax on which there is no tax paid. This again pyramids and increases the property tax on the poor man with a big family, actually taking a much larger fraction of what he consumes than it does of the extravagant liver.

It is these unfair things in our taxing system that has largely caused the ill feeling the poor have for the rich. Society has attempted to correct this injustice but has utterly failed in the attempt. The principal attempt to correct this has been taxing income. This did not correct the evil. In fact, it has only aggravated the condition because it made capital scarce and, consequently, reduced the wages of the great mass of workers who were already paying too high a fraction of what they consumed in proportion to what the workers cost the government.

This dissatisfaction against the taxing methods is a good thing in the long run because in order to correct an evil it is first necessary to get the public aroused against the evil. We invariably do things by trial and error and it is only natural for us to make a mistake in our first attempt to correct the injustice of taxation.

The Register has repeatedly pointed out that this inconsistency and injustice to the working man can best be corrected by retaining only taxes on that part of the income which is unearned and not taxing at all that part of the income which results from production and is used to increase employment and lower the cost of living and raise the real wages of all workers; that the taxing of services used by the rich and the things used by the rich, on which there is not a tax in proportion to what this consumption costs the government to protect the rich in consuming, is the practical way of correcting the unfairness in our taxing system.

In the face of these conditions, it is little wonder that the legislator would resign. The trouble, however, is that this fails to solve the problem. The remedy would appear to rest finally in more intelligent use of the ballot.

THAT DIARY

The inconsistency of the motion picture industry, as exemplified in the Mary Astor case, is amazing.

First, a girl wins a film contract by becoming notorious, either through murder or misbehavior. The worse her misbehavior the bigger her contract.

But by some strange twist of reasoning, the film moguls feel that she should then reform and cease the capers that made her desirable to the film moguls—in the first place.

By all the traditional policies and tenets of the motion picture industry, the conduct of Mary Astor should immediately call for a sizeable raise in salary. Think of her box-office value, now.

Yet we find the big movie bosses flustered over her diary and the matters it threatens to reveal to a breathless world of morons. We see them shuddering at the goo about to be splattered over Mr. Kaufman, Mr. Barrymore and other big names of the industry.

Come, gentlemen, where's your money sense? That diary will only enhance the allure of these, er—gentlemen. It will shed a golden aura upon them. It will prove their right to stardom. It will entitle them to fat contracts.

Ah! That, perhaps, is the rub. Maybe the movie bosses are trying to hold down their payrolls. That must be it. They could scarcely be so naive as to believe that even we morons thought Hollywood was the seat of virtue, or that the Astor diary was news. Although you couldn't blame them if they did rate that dumb. Goodness knows we've proved it to them often enough.

ARE YOU FINGERPRINTED?

The G-men have announced with pride that they now have the fingerprints of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and other well-known men. These are the latest additions to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's growing list of civilian fingerprints.

J. Edgar Hoover explains: "When a person places his fingerprints in the bureau's civil files, he automatically insures his family against prolonged mental suffering and the expenditure of a large amount of money in an effort to locate him, should he be unfortunate enough to perish in some manner in which all means of identification except fingerprints are lost, or should he become the victim of amnesia."

Fingerprinting heretofore has been allied too closely to the criminal side of life. Now the public is beginning to realize its importance as a measure of general security.

Whatever the number of a man's friends, there will still be times in his life when he has one too few; but, if he has only one enemy, he is lucky indeed if he has not one too many.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

HOPES— WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The Roosevelt labor rallies at their convention here were not very shy about their long range thoughts of electing John L. Lewis president in '40 on a Labor party ticket.

None of the speakers said anything officially about it. The words "third party" were never mentioned. No demonstrations were staged for anyone except President Roosevelt.

But if you will add up the following facts, you will get the proper sum total of what the boys hopefully have in mind: (1) Their resolution establishing their group as a permanent organization said labor should be in position to adjust ourselves intelligently and effectively to any political realignment that may occur following the re-election of President Roosevelt; (2) Mr. Lewis, the prospective candidate, opened his door, saying: "I do not know, after this election, what labor will do... But labor will undertake to do that thing politically which labor believes to be of the greatest advantage to labor," and (3) New Deal Handyman Berry added they propose to furnish "the instrument through which we can effectively and intelligently play our part in the realignment, if a realignment is to come, in the political parties of this country."

In fact, some present felt these help or hurt one of the two major parties. He would be in the same position as Coughlin, Lemke, et al now find themselves.

CHANCES— Few political authorities here will believe there is very much chance for Lewis or a formidable labor party soon. So many "ifs" are involved in the situation that consideration of it becomes merely parlor speculation.

In the first place, Mr. Lewis must successfully organize the steel industry and take over the A. F. of L. That will be a large order, even if Mr. Roosevelt is re-elected.

After that, Lewis's chance of capturing either major party as a vehicle for his operations will have to be faced. The nominal Democratic leaders in congress and the politicians would not want him (Robinson, Bankhead, O'Connor, Glass, etc.).

No possible reorganization of the Republican party is now conceivable which would afford him a foothold in that camp. And if Mr. Roosevelt is defeated, where will he be?

This leaves him a competitive third party as the only reasonable prospect. If both major parties continue in the field as important political entities, all this third party candidacy could do is to help or hurt one of the two major parties. He would be in the same position as Coughlin, Lemke, et al now find themselves.

THREAT— Far more realistic was what the New Deal's friend, Sidney Hillman, told the convention. In diplomatic language, he virtually announced that, after election, another fight was going to be made for NRA, the 30-hour week or some legislative control of the work week and minimum pay.

One overlooked sentence in his speech to the Roosevelt rally reads: "The NRA has been the savior of millions of workers, and we in our industry propose to demand of government, after this election, legislation outlawing the sweatshop, guaranteeing minimum wages and maximum hours in industry. (Applause.)"

ADVANCEMENT—

Progress is moving so fast inside the interior department that the new building is being rebuilt in some particulars before it has really settled in the ground.

First, Secretary Ickes discovered there was no radio broadcasting room in the building after it was up. Imagine a new government building without a broadcasting room! He ordered partitions knocked down, floors torn up, and rooms combined to provide suitable radio quarters.

But, even after that, other difficulties were discovered daily. As a consequence, Mr. Ickes has been holding up his own personal end of the PWA program by constant rebuilding.

After that, Lewis's chance of capturing either major party as a vehicle for his operations will have to be faced. The nominal Democratic leaders in congress and the politicians would not want him (Robinson, Bankhead, O'Connor, Glass, etc.).

No possible reorganization of the Republican party is now conceivable which would afford him a foothold in that camp. And if Mr. Roosevelt is defeated, where will he be?

Little Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAPE

A letter came for pop while he was eating breakfast, and he opened it saying, "Well for Peet sake what can Fred be thinking of?"

Fred who, what Fred, what is it, Willyum? ma said, and pop said, I'd always heard he was an impulsive chap, but this really spoms to be going a little too far."

What does, for land sakes will you please stop tawking to yourself in nondescript riddles?" ma said, and pop said, There's no doubt about Fred being a good bizzness man, in fact his record proves that, so when he sends me a letter with a statement like this in it, I scarcely know what to think. It seems like a headlong action to me, he said.

If you do me the honor of explaining what it's all about maybe I can help you with a few words of woman's intuition, is it serious, Willyum? ma said, and pop said, It may prove serious for Fred, but I don't see how it can affect me very much unless I completely lose my head in the matter. Well, let's forget for it, it's purely a bizzness matter, he said.

I suppose you mean I wouldn't be able to understand it in my feminine density, thanks for the compliment, ma said. Now I want to see that letter and I won't take no for an answer, she said.

And she quickly reached and grabbed it away from pop and read it saying, Well of all the ridiculous waists of time, really, Willyum, sometimes you border on the absurd and this is one of the times.

And she threw the letter down and I said, G, pop, can I read it? and he said, O, I don't imagine Fred would mind.

Meening I could, wish I did, begin: Mr. Willyum T. Potts, Dear Sir, You will be intrested to hear that the Fred D. Warrick Shoe Co. is beginning their annual clearants sale next Friday, or 2 weeks earlier than has been their custom. We cordially invite your inspection. Yours for bigger and better bargains in shoes, Fred D. Warrick.

It is not surprising to find the foregoing five states in the Republican column, as they have voted more often that way than Democratic. But it is surprising to find Illinois, California, Nebraska and West Virginia as well as Wisconsin showing such a heavy Democratic total. The fact that President Roosevelt's name appeared on the ballot in some of these states, as in Illinois, for example, and that he got 520,000 more votes than both Mr. Knox and Mr. Borah is interesting, but even more so is the fact that 516,000 of the Roosevelt presidential nominees was obtained in Cook county, which includes Chicago and environs. Here is where

Day By Day In Washington

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—There may be much food for conversation in the various polls and straw votes that are being made nowadays, but the last and most important poll of any large number of voters that will, upon careful study, reveal some significant trends is the primary vote in 11 states.

Here at Republican National headquarters they can hardly get much comfort out of a re-examination of primary voting, but, so far as indicating the job the Republicans have ahead of them if they are to win, the tabulation shows clearly where the organization work of an intelligent character must be done.

There seems no doubt that the heavy Democratic vote in the primaries in some states discloses the effect of the WPA and other "relief" organizations. This shows up especially in noting the abnormal increases in the Democratic vote in states where there are populous cities and towns. It indicates a corresponding failure to increase proportionately the Democratic vote in states that are more sparsely populated, where it is difficult for the "relief" vote to be corralled so easily as in the cities and large towns. Here is a table showing the percentage of the total vote obtained in the recent primaries in eleven states. I have compiled it as far as possible from official returns: or from the latest published unofficial returns:

Dem. Rep.

Illinois	59	41
California	61	39
Nebraska	58	42
West Virginia	59	41
Wisconsin	65	35
Missouri	74	26

It will be noted that in every one of these states the Democratic percentage of the total vote is the larger.

Now the states in which the Republicans exceeded the Democratic percentages in the primaries are these:

Iowa	36	64
Oregon	38	62
Ohio	45	55
South Dakota	36	64
Kansas	37	63

Meening I could, wish I did, begin: Mr. James S. Rice, Miss Rosa Boyd and Miss Vivian Clayton left yesterday by stage for a week's stay in Laguna Beach.

Meers, and Mesdames George Preble, George Prather, John Holt and Sam Preble formed a party motoring today to San Juan Hot Springs to spend the day.

A gang of laborers started work this morning on East Second street laying connection for the Pacific Electric and Southern Pacific tracks. The connection is believed to be for the convenience of Southern California Sugar company, in beet trains bound for the factory. There is also a report that the sugar factory may be given switching privileges that will grant it a through rate east for its sugar. The factory has been paying double with on rate to the P. ### Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

THE PILE TO BE DIVIDED

Yesterday I wrote of the fallacy, so widely evident in much of the current political discussion, that our economic troubles are due to our having over-built our productive capacity.

Another fallacy that should be exploded is the contention that all we need to do to arrive at Utopia is to get a wider division of the existing national income.

We now know, on the basis of the most exhaustive research, that if, at the
